ILLINOIS BUILDING BIG "SAFETY FIRST" HOSPITAL AT DIXON

FRED J. KERN'S PAPER TELLS OF
PLANS OF STATE BOARD
FOR EPILEPTICS.

MOST MODERN IN EVERY WAY
Buildings of Latest Type—Landscape
Improvements Will Be Noteworthy.

At the State Colony for Epileptics, located three miles north of Dixon, Illinois, the new institution created in 1912 by an act of the General Assembly, the new buildings for housing inmates are of one story construction and are considered the last word in architecture for this class of unfortunates, says the Belleville News-Democrat, of which Fred J. Kern, president of the State Board of Administration, is sole owner and contributing editor. Having in mind the many serious accidents happening to epileptics in state institutions by falling against hot radiators and steam pipes and severely burning themselves, the state authorities have provided metal guards, thereby reducing the danger of injury to patients to a minimum. In construction, the motto has been "Safety First." In specifying other improvements, money has not been spared to obtain the most modern equipment.

Ready This Fall.
The work of constructing the first groups of new buildings at the colony is nearing completion and the State Board of Administration expects to be ready for the reception of patients some time next fall. The colony is located on a tract of land which is approximately eleven hundred acres. It is bordered on one side by the beautiful Rock river, and is so situated that it will have good drainage, an abundance of water, and adequate railroad facilities, the Illinois Central railroad running through the premises, and an extension of the Dixon city electric line being recently built to the road opposite the main entrance of the colony. Aside from the geographical advantages of the location, the colony is in one of the most healthful communities of the State. It is conveniently located in a territory which has not heretofore been favored with a state institution. The building site is considered an ideal one.

Separation of Sexes.
The State architect has planned a very elaborate and comprehensive arrangement for the buildings, which are situated in various locations and placed so there will be complete separation of the sexes. The structures are the administration building, general hospital building, amusement building, receiving building, juvenile building, library building, general kitchen and cold storage, dining room building, ward buildings, employees' building, bakery and supply house, power house, industrial building, laundry building, tubercular building, and managing officer's cottage.

The rock ballasting of the North Western's roadbed will be completed between Chicago and Clinton by the end of the month. The extra gangs which have been working east out of Dixon have completed their work and it is expected the work west of this city will be finished by the end of the week. Extra gangs are at work on a 3 mile stretch between DeKalb and Cortland, and when this is completed the roadbed from Chicago to the Mississippi will be rock ballast.

ROOSEVELT SUGGESTS GEN. WOOD

Visitors At Oyster Bay Say That T. R. Would Be Satisfied With Army Man.

(Associated Press)
Chicago, June 6.—Leaders who profess a willingness to accept anyone for the presidential nomination who will be able to command the support of both republicans and progressives, are trying to determine whether Hughes has been strengthened or weakened by the temporary concentration of all forces upon him, with the avowed purpose of eliminating Roosevelt as a republican possibility. Unquestionably the result of the big Hughes drive has been to place the whole field of candidates against him. Conferences of republican and progressive leaders continue.

No Common Ground.
These continued conferences today have failed to disclose any common ground upon which the leaders of the two parties can agree and the two forces seem as far apart as ever. Justice Hughes remains the leading figure in point of strength while Roosevelt is today considered the veto power in the republican convention.

Deny Disapproval.
Perkins today flatly denied that Roosevelt had ever declared his disapproval of Hughes, or any other man. "I am amazed that persons are taking advantage of Hughes' speech at a girls' college in Washington to try to get him the nomination," said Perkins.

Open Headquarters.
Progressive headquarters have opened in the Florentine room in the Congress hotel. Progressives, striving for harmony, realize the difficulty of holding Roosevelt enthusiasts from nominating him later than Thursday.

Oyster Bay, June 6.—The nomination of Gen. Leonard Wood, U. S. A., for the presidency on the republican ticket, would be acceptable to Roosevelt as a solution of the situation in Chicago, according to visitors who called on the colonel today.

Chicago, June 6.—A canvass of the leading delegates instructed for favorite sons shows clearly that when the break comes on the later ballots the drift will be mainly to Hughes. Roosevelt will pick up small blocks of delegates in some states and a scattering of lone delegates from various other states.

The biggest swing to Hughes will be from Pennsylvania. The Penrose delegation, according to Senator George

HARRIS REQUESTS REHEARING

A. G. Harris of this city, who at the last term of the supreme court was barred from the practice of law in the state for a period of two years, has applied for a rehearing of his case at the present term of the court, which convened today. He alleges some details of the court's opinion were not in line with the evidence submitted.

William Palmer, Former I.N.U. Man Escaped Captors

Former Claim Agent of Local Co.
Said To Be One of Gang of Auto Thieves

CONFESSED STEALING MANY

William H. Palmer, former claim agent for the I. N. U. Co. of this city was recently taken into custody by the sheriff of Waterloo, Ia., in St. Joseph, Missouri, on a charge of stealing automobiles. Palmer made a confession to having stolen 20 or more automobiles and in this confession he mentioned a number of other men with whom he had been in league for some time.

Escaped in Chicago

The Waterloo, Iowa, sheriff took Palmer to Chicago where he is intended to place him for further safe-keeping, but Palmer had no desire to be placed in such a place and he promptly eluded the sheriff and "pulling a little Louis Klee stuff" escaped in the night and so far no trace of him has been found. When Mr. Palmer was first caught he was using a license number on his car that belonged to Walter Sunday of Franklin Grove. Mr. Sunday was notified but replied that he had not lost his car but had lost his license. The confession of Palmer was then sent to Mr. Sunday and he submitted it to the Sheriff of Lee county. It is believed that Palmer belonged to some "gang" in St. Paul and had been carrying on this kind of business for some time.

The candy manufacturer is a delegate to the republican convention in Chicago and came on to Dixon to pay his respects to his brother and friend.

CRUISER HAMPSHIRE, WITH BRITISH WAR SECRETARY ABOARD, WAS SUNK

MINE OR TORPEDO SENT SHIP TO

JELlicoe IS HOPELESS

Admiral of Grand Fleet Has Little Hope That Any Survived the Cruiser's Sinking.

(Associated Press)

London, June 6.—Admiral Jellicoe, Commander of the British Grand Fleet, today reported to the Admiralty that the British cruiser Hampshire, with Earl Kitchener, British Secretary of State for War, and his staff on board, had been lost west of the Orkneys.

LITTLE HOPE THAT ANY ON BOARD WERE SAVED

Four boats were seen to leave the Hampshire, but a heavy sea was running and only a capsized boat and some bodies had been found when the message was sent this morning. Admiral Jellicoe reports there is little hope that any survived. Kitchener was on his way to Russia.

CRUISER WAS VICTIM OF MINE OR TORPEDO

Jellicoe's report states that the Hampshire was sunk at 8 o'clock last night by a mine or a torpedo. She normally carried 655 men and was commanded by Capt. Herbert Savill. She displaced 11,000 tons and had been carrying officials on various missions.

KITCHENER APPOINTED SOON AFTER WAR STARTED

Kitchener was appointed secretary of war soon after Great Britain's declaration of war on Germany. As the war progressed he was subjected to much criticism, led by Lord Northcliffe, accompanying him on the trip were:

Hugh O'Brien, former Counselor British Embassy at Petrograd.
Brigadier General Ellershaw.
Sir Frederick Donaldson.
O. A. Fitzgerald, Kitchener's Secretary.

BRITISH CABINET MET IMMEDIATELY THIS MORNING

Immediately after the receipt of the news of the sinking of the Hampshire with Kitchener and his staff a meeting of the British cabinet was called. Grey, McKenna, Lloyd George and Gen. Robertson, who was reported aboard the ill-fated cruiser, were present. Gen. Robertson will probably succeed Kitchener.

DEMONSTRATE ROAD SCARIFIER TOMORROW

CHICAGO ROAD WILL BE TORN UP AND ROLLED—PART OF STATE MEET.

WEATHER HURTS ATTENDANCE

Inclement weather today prevented many road men, who had announced their intention of coming to Dixon, attending the opening session of the school of instruction which was held at the supervisors' room in the court house late this afternoon. It is expected that many more will be in attendance tomorrow, the registration at 2:30 o'clock today being fifteen.

Demonstrate Scarifier.

A feature of tomorrow's sessions will be a demonstration of a road scarifier on the Chicago road from the end of the concrete pavement south to the city limits. Commissioner of Streets Dysart has given permission to the manufacturers to tear this road up with the machine and he will immediately put the roller on the highway to pack and level it. The highway is one of the roughest leading into Dixon, and therefore the demonstration will serve a two-fold service—showing off the machine and improving a road that needs it badly.

No Man May Expect Continuous Success Rev. Holland Said

At the Baccalaureate service held in the Presbyterian church Sunday evening for the graduates of the North Dixon high school, Rev. A. J. Holland took for his text, Micah VI, 8: "What doth God require of thee, but to do justice, love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God." Using as his theme, "God's Comrades" he spoke in part as follows:
"Europe has learned that when the sun rises it begins to shine, thus a new emphasis has been laid upon merit in justice. In statuary and in paintings Justice is represented by a figure with bandaged eyes. This symbolizes not the partnership of justice and darkness but the fact that with her there is no distinction of persons,—king and beggar, high and low, receive from her impartial and accurate judgment. This figure with her sword and balanced scales especially symbolizes the justice of the state, the courthouse and the jury. Even here, while the standards change but slowly, the methods alter with every fresh flood of light. "Especially with the individual, conscience and light are comrades. While conscience is elemental, bringing a feeling of right, a sense of duty and an anticipation of reward or punishment, it grows large and luminous or small and opaque in proportion to the light and intelligence and grace of God that are ambuscades, the conscience that is reptile-like like that of Judas and

Author of "At Good Old Swash"
GEORGE THE THIRD

Tomorrow will be the birthday of George III., a wholly estimable gentleman who ruled England with great pains and care for 60 years and gave the greatest republic in the world its start in life—and all he got for it was the hoarse hoot from posterity and a permanent place among the famous ivory domes of history.

King George came from a bad family, though society was kind to them and forgave their faults when requested to do so by the police. When the first two Georges died citizens of England had to hire experienced mourners to weep for them. George the Third was honest and patriotic, however, and used to come down to the office at 7 a. m. and work all day trying to puzzle out some paper that a cheap lawyer could translate in ten minutes. He introduced into royalty the custom of being faithful to one's wife, and declared often and in no uncertain terms that he would esteem it a privilege and pleasure to die for his country at any time. His extreme dilatoriness in doing so, however, caused much criticism and clouded his fame in England.

King George came to the throne in 1760 and began his reign by steadily diet a few minutes afterward. He was a man of very few ideas, but they were rooted into his head like clothes of English design and work-wisdom teeth, and were even harder than.

to extract. All through his reign cabinets and parliaments pulled and hauled at these ideas, while George, clutching his royal throne and shrouded with pain and woe. One of his firmest ideas was that the American colonies had no business to bother themselves about taxes, manufacturing or government. He clung to this idea with extraordinary tenacity and still had it in 1780. But he did not have the colonies.

King George struggled for fifty years with his aching but deep-rooted ideas, while the statesmen of England tried to extract them without gas. He was one of the finest old stand-patters of history, but his firmness proved his ruin. His Prime Minister damaged his mind while trying to get the ideas out of it, and for the last 20 years of his life King George wrestled with state problems in his lucid intervals and with a straight-jacket the rest of the time.

King George reigned 60 years and broke all English records; he should be admired by all Americans for his stupid honesty. For if he had consented to buy off the colonies with a few promises and a little privilege now and then, the British flag might still be waving from New York to San Francisco and we would have to wear the clothes of English design and work-wisdom teeth, and were even harder than.

Landscape Details.
The state architect has also planned extensive landscape improvements which include walks, boulevards, a beautiful sunken garden in front of the administration building, with tennis courts, athletic field and stadium on each side. When this landscape work has been done, the colony grounds will be one of the beauty spots in Illinois, and will surpass any work that has heretofore been done by the state authorities along these lines.

Up to date, the administration building, six cottages and two dining rooms have been completed and four other buildings, the power house, steam tunnels, and sewers have been contracted for. Bids have also been

D. 1916, and approved by the Mayor of said City on the 2nd day of May, A. D. 1916, ordered the furnishing of the labor and materials for and the construction of vitrified tile pipe sewer for sanitary purposes with manholes and house connection laterals in Ottawa Avenue along the center line thereof from the southerly terminus of the sewer heretofore constructed in said Ottawa Avenue at a point thirty-five feet South of East Seventh Street to the intersection of the center line of Ottawa Avenue with the center line of East Tenth Street produced and thence to the point of intersection of the center line of Inlet Avenue with the center line of Pine Street in the City of Dixon, Lee County, Illinois.

invited for two kitchen buildings.

Total Cost $1,500,000.

The total cost of the colony when completed will be approximately $1,500,000, or as much more as the legislature will appropriate. Accommodations will be provided for the care and comfort of 1,500 epileptics. There will be no age limit for epileptics cared for at this place, the only exception made being that insane epileptics will not be admitted.

In building the many miles of macadam roads for the colony, and in beautifying the place, Gov. Dunne has arranged for the transfer of fifty prisoners from the Illinois State Penitentiary at Joliet, Illinois, to the colony, and their labor will be used in making these improvements. The convicts will be cared for in buildings of the institution until the work is completed. On the site of the colony there is an undeveloped stone quarry and gravel beds from which material will be taken to build the roads, the state authorities having already issued an order for the transfer of a stone crusher from the Illinois Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Quincy, Illinois to the Dixon colony.

Methods of Admission.

There are two methods of admitting patients to the colony, viz: First, if an applicant is in need of treatment and care, such proof must be furnished, consisting of a certificate from two physicians, setting forth that the applicant is an epileptic. These certificates are to be made under oath, the physician making the certificate being licensed to practice medicine or surgery in the state of Illinois. Second, if a person is suffering from epilepsy and is a proper subject for the care and custody of the colony, any parent, relative, conservator, guardian, or reputable citizen may file a petition in any court of record in the county in which said epileptic resides, setting forth that the person is suffering from epilepsy. The court is required to enquire into the mental and

If it is found on the evidence of two or more reputable physicians that the person is an epileptic the court may order his admission to the colony, and it is mandatory for the managing officer to receive the patient for care, providing there is room in the colony. If the alleged epileptic is an adult, his consent in writing must first be obtained, and if a minor, or under other disability, the consent in writing of the parent, guardian, or conservator, must be first obtained. In order that certain parts of the state may be equally benefited, the Board of Administration will notify the different counties showing the quotas each will be entitled to. Blank forms relating to the admission will be provided shortly before the opening of the institution by the Board of Administration, at Springfield, Illinois.

doubt will be followed by all the other states in caring for this class of unfortunate.

It is estimated that there are over ten thousand persons of all ages and conditions suffering from epilepsy in Illinois. At present there are many children debarted from public and private schools because of this misfortune, and by reason of the nature of the disease epileptics are prevented from securing employment. There seems to be a bond of sympathy between persons afflicted with this disease and when they are at large without protection and the care of each other, they very often suffer grave physical injuries. The object of this colony is to secure for the residents of Illinois a place of employment, instruction, treatment and custody. There will be extensive farming, gardening, dairying and other outdoor healthful pursuits on this large tract of fertile land.

When a full complement of staff officers is provided for the colony, physicians educated and trained in the care and treatment of nervous and mental diseases will be employed and opportunities will be given to these experts for study and research in the cause of, method of treatment and probable prevention of epilepsy.

The benefits of this great institution will be felt in all parts of the state. Regardless of patients' nationality, color, creed, social or financial standing, they will all be cared for alike, and no favoritism will be shown.

DEFEATED CHICAGO WHITE
ROCKS SUNDAY AFTERNOON
SCORE 14 TO 16

Rochelle, June 5.—The Rochelle Orioles added the Chicago White Rocks to their list of scalp at East Side Athletic Park, Sunday afternoon, before a crowd of 450 fans by the score of 14 to 19. The "chickens" run in 6 runs in the 7th inning when Nelson, twirler for the "songsters" tired and went to sleep in the box allowing a man to steal home from third. A wild throw to his backstop and a poor peg by the catcher set the scene for a triple steal and a batting rally. After this onslaught the locals settled down and played ball.

Local Office of American Co. Has Biggest Day Monday.
Express shipments from Dixon on Monday were the heaviest in the history of the office, much of the increase being due to the efforts being made to keep express out of Chicago. Five truck loads were placed in the express car of the Sterling passenger, eastbound, Monday morning and it was necessary that Lee Good of the local office, ride as far as West Chicago to assist the messenger in handling the big consignment.

ALL FASCINATED BY WOMAN'S HAIR

Nearly every woman who has an ordinary head of hair can by giving it just a little attention, have luxuriant hair, soft, fluffy and radiantly beautiful.

It's a good thing to know this because hair preparations that put life and lustre into dull looking hair are scarce, but it is a fact known to nearly every druggist in America that Parisian Sage, a delightfully clean and refreshing tonic not only will make your hair look 100 per cent. better but will quickly stop it from falling, rid it of dandruff and scalp itch. It's well worth a trial and Rowland Bros. who dispose of a great quantity of it will tell you so, and will refund your money if it isn't all you expect.

"FAKE REMEDIES" ADVERTISED

No doubt some of the medicines advertised are fakes, but these never have any lasting success. They stand a striking contrast to the good old standard, dependable remedies, like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which has stood the test of time and for more than forty years has been alleviating the suffering of womankind. Such medicines are a blessing to the community and will continue their good work from one generation to another.

G. A. R. Circle Meeting

Members of the G. A. R. Circle No. 73, had an opportunity yesterday for regular session to hear of the Decatur convention, as most interesting reports were given by the various delegates.

The reports touched upon the honors bestowed upon the local chapter—of the department treasure—being unanimously awarded to Mrs. Mae Brookner Cupp, of the naming of Mrs. Stuckey Bremer as delegate to the national convention in Kansas City this fall, of Mrs. Heller's having been appointed one of the tellers at the convention, and of the local circle's president, Mrs. Morris, being named as one of the committee to carry greetings to the Daughters of the Sons of Veterans.

The convention was held in the Christian Church in Decatur and was very largely attended.

The reports also told of the formation of a circle in Decatur which previously had had none. During the convention a charter was signed and forty charter members marked the organization of the circle.

Among much business of importance which was transacted in yesterday's meeting was the election of Mrs. May Thompson to succeed Mrs. Mae Brookner Cupp as treasurer, inasmuch as the holding of the department office obligated the resignation of Mrs. Cupp from the local office. Two applications for membership in the circle were also read.

The beautiful memorial service for the deceased members of the circle who passed beyond during the year, completed the full program.

Don't Let Soap Spoil Your Hair

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulshed coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

NO MAN MAY EXPECT CONTINUOUS SUCCESS

Uriah Heep, the Conscience that is divine like that of St. Paul and Jesus Christ.
"Gold and silver are gold and silver always in whatever form they may be found but these metals receive new value and new power when coined and stamped and given currency. So the mind that has been trained, the life that has been selected, the soul that has been ordained of God, have received a wonderful increase of power to perceive and know the things they ought to do and therefore increase obligation faithfully to perform the same.
"To whom much has been given from him shall much be required."
Therefore God requires not that you talk of it or dream of it, but that you do justice.

"Still a more excellent way show
I unto you." In this life you may
No man prays for unmodified justice for himself. Mercy is the doo-way that leads to God. Employ, not your conscience, therefore to seek out other people's faults. Apply not the same standard to every life, for the purpose of condemnation. Let there be with you no distinction of personality. He who is the product of many generations of culture, fine home training, and splendid education like that which has been yours must expect to apply to himself higher standards than that which is applied to the one who is held down by the brutal hand of twenty generations and who knows neither culture nor the grace of Christ. Let your education therefore, quicken
your sense of mercy.

"You have acquired a fresh sense of the value of time. Be timely, therefore, about deeds of compassionate. Imitate the good bishop in his dealings with Jean Valjean. Put an extra plate on the table and get ready the guest chamber without delay. 'If you bring your gift to the altar and then rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee, leave thy gift before the altar;
go first, and be reconciled with thy brother; then come and offer thy gift.' God can wait, he is eternal;
man cannot wait, he is the creature
of an hour. God requires, therefore, that you love Mercy.

"Life is a matter of hills and plains, with here and there a 'Dele-able mountain.' Many a time you will mount up with wings like the eagle, often you will run and not be weary, but the true art of life is to know how to walk and not falter.
Therein you will need a strong and faithful companion. You must learn to walk humbly with thy God.
"Seek to find which way God is going. Even as the mariner upon the high seas must now and then seek the quiet harbor to adjust compass and chronometer, do you not forget where you may hear again the instruction of thy father and 'the aw-of thy mother.' Seek always the quiet and peace of God's sanctuary and forget not God's Holy Word, for
'by taking heed thereto shall a young man cleanse his way.' 'Do humbly with thy God, and through out the ripening years you will move
and more become God's comrades.
Not for the gain of the gold; for the getting, the hoarding, the having,
But for the joy of the deed, but for the duty to do.
'Go with spiritual life, the higher volition and action.
'With the great girdle of God, go
and encompass the world."

KAISER'S FLEET CRUSHED, CLAIM

British Say Cruiser Squadron
Nearly Wiped Out.

THREE OR FOUR UNITS REMAIN

Seydlitz Reported Sunk—Admiralty
Reports 349 More Casualties on Ships That Reached Port—Officers Conduct Upheld—Berlin Reports Another 97 Enemy's Warships Lost.
London, June 6.—The German navy has been crushed. Its battle cruiser fleet has been reduced to three or four units by Wednesday's naval battle off Jutland, according to British naval experts.
As late official reports are received it becomes more and more evident that the British fleet won a decisive victory over the German high seas fleet. At least eighteen German men-of-war are now believed to have been destroyed, aggregating 113,435 tons.
The admiralty issued the following statement:
"In one or two newspapers doubts have been raised as to the professional conduct at sea of the officers in high command who took part in the recent naval battle.
"It cannot be too clearly stated that,
as no definite report from the commander-in-chief has been published or even received, any attempts to criticize the direction of operations must be wholly conjectural. Such asper-sions inflict grave injustice on the able and gallant officers whose care is confided the command of his majesty's squadrons and ships."

349 Added to Casualties.
Report of 349 additional casualties
among the British fleet also was made by the admiralty. In an official statement it was announced that 116 petty officers and 233 men of the crews of vessels not sunk were lost during the engagement.
Residents of Schleswig have been informed that sailors from there were killed on the Seydlitz and the vessel sunk, it is believed, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen. It had been reported that the Seydlitz, a 25,000-ton German battle cruiser, was sighted Thursday off Faro Island badly damaged and fleeing from British warships.
A Reuter dispatch from Berlin tells of a visit the Kaiser made to Wilhelmshaven Sunday, on which occasion he congratulated the officers and men of the high seas fleet.

Berlin Reports Another Sunk.
Berlin, June 6.—An official statement issued by the German admiralty says: "On the 31st of May one of our submarines off the Humber sank
an English torpedo boat destroyer which, according to a survivor, was the Tipperary. The British armored cruiser Euryalus was set fire by our forces during the battle of Skager-Rak
and was completely burned out."

London Denies Sinking.
London, June 6.—In connection with the German official statement announcing the sinking of a British destroyer off the Humber and the burning of the British cruiser Euryalus,
the following announcement was made at the British admiralty:
"No British destroyer or any other British warship was destroyed off the Humber or anywhere else by a submarine or any other agency since the action of May 31.
"The Euryalus was not in the North Sea during this battle and therefore was not sunk by German fire."

100 OFFICERS ARE LOST

Canadian Troops Suffer Heavily in Latest Battle at Ypres.
Ottawa, Ont., June 6.—Although the militia department had not received details regarding the defense of the Canadians in the latest battle at Ypres, a list of casualties of officers indicates that the engagement was one of the biggest in which the soldiers from the dominion have played a part. This list shows that more than 100 Canadian officers were killed or missing and it is expected the losses among the privates will prove to have been exceptionally heavy.

The list is headed by General Victor
Williams, wounded and missing,
who was commandant of the famous Valcartier camp and crossed the sea
with the first Canadian contingent;
and General Mercer, also wounded and missing.

DEMOCRATS SWEEP CHICAGO

Win All Superior Court Judgeships by 20,000 to 30,000.
Chicago, June 6.—Democratic candidates for judges of the superior court were elected over the Republican contestants by pluralities expected to reach 20,000 to 30,000 votes when complete returns are received.

ment on account of floods alleged to have been caused by levee building failed when the supreme court decided the Mississippi river commission

HUGHES GAINING FROM ALL SIDES

T. Oliver, will cast more than fifty votes for Hughes on either the second or third ballot.
Hughes to Get Michigan.
Michigan will cast thirty votes for Henry Ford on the first ballot because of the primary instructions, but on the second ballot twenty of these votes will go to Hughes. Only a minority of the remaining ten will go to Roosevelt.

Thirteen of Nebraska's sixteen votes, which will be cast for Cummins
on the first ballot, will go to Hughes when the time comes to break up the favorite son alliance. These figures were the recent result of a poll of the delegation taken after its arrival Monday.

Strong in Two Southern States.
The Tennessee delegation, which opened headquarters in the Congress Hotel, also showed greater Hughes strength than the Hughes managers had anticipated. The poll taken shows that on the first ballot eleven votes will be cast for Hughes, three for Roosevelt, three for Weeks and two for Burton, with two in doubt. The probability is that the two doubtful votes will go to Du Pont because of large property holdings of the Du Ponts in that particular locality.

Kentucky has been counted almost solidly in the Fairbanks column.
When the delegates themselves arrived it was found that only ten of the twenty-six are for Fairbanks. Ten will go to Hughes on the first ballot
and the remaining six will be divided between Roosevelt and Root. When the breakup comes the delegates say a majority of the Fairbanks votes will go to Hughes.

Progressives in Roundup.
The Progressive party staged an all-day bout between George W. Perkins and a number of delegates to the Progressive national convention. Mr.
Perkins was assisted by several other party leaders.
The purpose of Mr. Perkins' efforts was to convince the delegates that it would be unwise to nominate Colonel Roosevelt for president before the Republicans, in session down the street, should make up their minds
as to the identity of the gentleman
they desired to see in the White House.

Between rounds, Mr. Perkins busied himself assuring the general public that his was the right idea,
and that the Progressive convention
would see the light.
Meet G. O. P. Half Way.
Late in the afternoon, following a series of conferences, Mr. Perkins made this statement:
"The convention will not make its nomination right off the bat. It will be prepared to meet the Republican convention half way. At the meeting of the national committee here was a feeling that the January statement was tantamount to an invitation to the Republicans to get together, if they choose to accept it as such."

Burton Too Dignified to Attend.
Cleveland, June 6.—Theodore E.
Burton will not go to the Republican national convention, he told his friends. It would not be dignified, he said.
Ford Too Busy.
Detroit, June 6.—Henry Ford's secretary announced that Mr. Ford would not be in Chicago while the Republican convention is in session.
"Too busy" was the reason given.

Thompson Wins as Committeeman.
Chicago, June 6.—Agreement was reached Monday on organization of Illinois delegation to the republican convention, assuring the selection of Mayor Thompson as national committeeman and the retirement of Roy O.
West, who has represented Illinois on the republican governing body for the last four years.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

How a Lad
Tried to Get a
Gold Horse.

[Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales.]

RIGHT after supper daddy told the children this story: "A fox once told a lad how to find a gold horse for a king, who was to give the lad a gold bird for the horse. Soon as the lad understood he sat down on the fox's broad tail, and away they went whizzing over rocks and hills till the wind whistled through their hair. Soon the lad came to a castle where the gold horse stood in his stall. Alongside slept a groom, with his hand on a gold saddle. The lad looked at the beautiful horse. 'What a pity,' he cried, 'to take him away without his gold saddle instead of this old one!'
"But as he touched the gold saddle the groom awoke and called so loudly that soldiers came and took the lad prisoner. In the morning the king's court judged the lad and doomed him to death. But finally it was agreed that if the lad could bring a beautiful princess he might have the gold horse.
"So he set out very sorrowful, but on his way he met his old friend, the
fox. 'Heyday, young gentleman!' said the fox. 'Why didn't you listen to me?
If you had you might have owned both the gold bird and the horse. Now I am going to help you again. Go straight ahead, and by evening you will come to a big castle. At 12 o'clock every night the princess goes to her bath. As she passes go up to her and give her a kiss. Then she will let you lead her away.
But take care that you do not let her go to say goodbye to her parents.'
"Then the fox spread out his bushy tail, the lad sat down on it, and away they flew over rocks and hills till their hair whistled in the wind.
"All happened as the fox said. The lad came to the castle and at 12 o'clock met the princess going to her bath. He kissed her, and she agreed to go away with him, but with tears in her lovely eyes begged him to let her go bid her father and mother goodbye. At first he said 'No.' But she wept some more and fell at his feet, begging. At last he let her go, but the moment she came to her parents' door the guards awoke and made him prisoner again. So he was taken to the king, who lived in this castle, and the king said, 'You shall never have my daughter unless in eight days you can dig away the hill that stops the view from my window.'
"Now, this hill was so big that all the men in the world could not have taken it away. When the lad had dug seven days and done hardly a cartload his friend, the fox, came to him and said: 'Lie down and go to sleep. I'll dig for you.' In the morning the lad awoke, and the hill was gone. So he ran merrily to the king and said, 'Now the hill is gone, and you must give me your daughter!'"

She Agreed to Go Away With Him.

DECATUR FARMER IS "CON" MEN'S VICTIM

He Ran Across Chicago "Banker" in Florida.

Chicago, Ill., June 6.—A. L. Matteson, a farmer of Morris, Ill., who informed the detective bureau Thursday that he had been swindled out of $18,000 by "wire tappers" in Joliet, appeared at the detective bureau with his story. With him was his friend, Henry Hurd, a farmer of Decatur, Ill., who said he had been swindled out of $10,000 in a similar manner while in St. Petersburg, Fla., several weeks ago.

Henry P. Smith, who says he is an insurance agent, with offices in the Insurance Exchange, was taken into custody by the police in a bank, on complaint of Matteson, who accused him of being the "go-between."

Both men, according to the police, identified the pictures of two confidence men.

merged coach. Divers say they can see two of the bodies but have been unable to reach them.

It is rumored that there are fifteen bodies in the coach, but this is denied by railroad officials. The coach is fast sinking in quicksand and it can hardly be raised for several days and it may be that the total number of dead will not be known until that time.

This entire section of the country is tied up by reason of the wreck and high water. Neither the Great Western nor the Rock Island is able to run trains.

Road Doing All It Can.
The Rock Island road is doing all it can to facilitate the recovery of bodies. It has placed every facility at the hands of the divers and is doing all possible for relatives and friends of the injured.

Passengers who escaped say the wreck came without warning. Many were sleeping in the Pullman and were awakened by the crash of timbers and sudden jar of the train as it parted and the coach disappeared in the creek. They say the screams of the drowning passengers were frightful. As soon as they could get out of the sleepers they did all they could for the injured, making them as comfortable as possible.

The scene of the wreck is isolated and lonely, but it was not long until the countryside, which was aroused by the crash, was at the scene and assisting in rescue work.

50 Passengers in coach.
According to estimates of railway officials there were fifty passengers riding in the day coach. Of these only 35 were accounted for, and are either dead or missing. Several in the hospital at Greene are reported to be in a serious condition.

ROCHELLE
Rochelle, June 2.—The Rochelle Chamber of Commerce has named a committee to call on Vice-President Howard, of the C. B. & Q. railroad in Chicago, relative to the great need of a new depot in this city. The matter was brought up at the regular meeting last week by Mayor Wilbur B. McHenry. From reliable information received by Burlington that a new depot is on the way. The C. B. & Q. owns sufficient land adjacent to the present station to give them ample building space.

The C. B. & Q. is now making extensive improvements here. A double track is being laid from Steward Junction to Flagg Center; and the coal chute will be moved from its present location to the east end of the railroad yards. The new track will be laid on the south side of the present one and will accommodate the heavy traffic of the C. M. & St. P. trains which at the present time use the Burlington tracks between the above named stations.

Rochelle, June 5.—An audience of 500 people heard Rev. G. H. Ashworth, pastor of the Universalist church of Sycamore, deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the high school seniors at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning, on "Baggage for the Journey of Life."

The Rev. Ashworth told the graduates that "your own character is the clothing for the journey of life." "The essentials of character are reverence, self-respect and self-reliance. Your best working capital is honesty and truthfulness. You are clothed by your education in the public schools. By giving the world service you can recompense your parents and the public. Remember that the pure in heart see God in the hearts of their fellow man and that love and helpfulness are greater than fame and position."

High School Monday
score of 14 to 6 at Athletic Park.
The high school took a game from the Orpheum Stock Co., nine by a Thursday afternoon. Bill Carpenter was dishing them out for Rochelle with Comstock on the receiving end and Swango Bros. made up the battery for the actors. Carpenter struck out 5 men and walked 1. Swango struck out 4 men and walked three. Rochelle got 9 hits and the showmen 8. Maxson made 4 runs for Rochelle. The gate receipts went to the high school boys. Both teams had a lot of fun out of the game.

Mt. Morris is contributing her winning streak in the Tri-county league by defeating Polo, 12 to 3. Coach Annis, who is the manual training instructor, has turned out eight black walnut bats for the local team.

DRUG ACT IS BADLY CRIPPLED BY RULING

U. S. Supreme Court Dwells on Law's Words.

Washington, June 6.—The supreme court interpreted the Harrison federal drug act of 1914, making it unlawful for any person not registered under the law to have opium in his possession, as applying only to those who deal in the drug and not to those who use it.

As a result of the decision it is expected that the effectiveness of the law will be seriously handicapped. Scores of proposed prosecutions throughout the country have been held up awaiting the decision.

The District court held that the word "person" in the law referred to the persons who are required to register and pay the special tax in order to deal in opium, and that there was no allegation in the indictment that opium in question was to be dealt in. Justice Holmes announces the opinion of the majority of the court. Justice Hughes and Justice Pitney dissented.

34. 160 Acre Lee County, Ill. farm, located about 5 miles from Dixon, Ill. This is one of the best farms in Lee County. Improvements consist of 7 room house all in first class condition with cellar under entire house; has largest barn in township, double corn crib, windmill, 1 well by the house, machine shed and chicken house. Farm is partly fenced with woven wire, all fences in good repair. There is no waste land on this farm, can all be cropped. There is a little over 100 acres in crop. Rented for 1916, cash or pasture and 1/2 of crops. This is the biggest bargain today in the county at the price it is offered. The reason is the owner is a non-resident and will sell at the sacrifice price of $250 per acre. But you must act quick as I only have this farm for 30 days to offer you at the above price, as it is too cheap to sell it at the above price.

40. 131 Acres, located on stone road. Land is all plow ground; no waste land on this farm. Adjoining farm sold last winter for $535 per acre, being 15 acres in farm. This farm must be seen to be appreciated and is worth $300 per acre. The owner expects to do some improving by Fall and has placed the farm on the market at $275 per acre, provided the sale is made before improvements are started. Will take income city property as a part payment. This farm is about 2 miles from the Epileptic Colony now being built by the State of Ill. All the land used by this colony was purchased by the State 2 years ago at an average of $227 per acre. In one year this farm now being offered at $275 per acre will be cheap at $350. If you have anything to offer do so, do not waste time.

41. 147.54 Acres. Located 12 miles south of Dixon, Ill. on Wagon Factory road. Black soil and level. Excellent corn land. Corn averages 58 bushel to the acre. 1914 grain netted over $6600 besides feed for stock and seed for next season. Rented for 3 years for share and $5.00 per acre cash for pasture. Will bring $3500 rent. Buildings consist of good 7 room house with good cellar, barn for 20 horses and large granary, chicken house, new windmill and scales, and all good outbuildings. Mortgage $29,609.57 at 5% due 6 years from March 1916. Price $200 per acre. Will trade equity for smaller income property.

42. 28 Acres, located 4 miles from Market, Cham-paign, Ill. Small set of buildings. All under cultivation. Clear. $130 per acre. Rented for $150 cash.

43. 160 Acres located in Lee County, Ill. 8 miles from Harmon, 7 miles from Ohio, Ill. 14 miles from Dixon, Ill. 140 acres in cultivation, balance in pasture with some timber in pasture. There are 10,000 4 and 6 in. tile in this farm. There is some sand and balance is black soil, never overflows. Buildings consist of 5 room house in good condition, with large cellar, barn, chicken house, machine shed and well. Large hog pasture all fenced hog tight. Balance of fences barb wire. There is an incumbrance of $11,000 or about $11,600 including interest for 1915. Price $150 per acre, for quick deal. Will trade equity for income city property and assume. Would take $15,000 to $25,000 property. Make an offer.

 Morris July of Shaws visited with his many friends and acquaintances here Saturday.
 The funeral services for the late W. C. Biggart were held at the M. E. church in West Brooklyn on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. Kaufmann of Compton officiating. The church was filled with relatives and friends of the deceased who wished to show by their attendance their respect for an old neighbor and fellow citizen. The local camp M. W. A. marched in a body from the church to the cemetery and also contributed a large floral piece to their brother's bier. Burial was in the Union cemetery. The obituary is as follows:

William U. Biggart was born in New York state September 29, 1855 and died in Lee Center township on May 29, 1916, aged 60 years and 8 months. When about four years old he was brought by his parents to Lee county, Ill., and at the age of 24 years he moved from here to Hamilton county, Nebraska, where he engaged in farming.

On Dec. 15, 1880, he was united in marriage to Miss Jennie I. Simpson, and to this union two children were born. In 1903 he with his family moved to Dane county, Wisconsin, where he resided three years and then moved to Lee county, where he remained to the time of his death. There is left to mourn his loss his wife, two children, Mrs. Bertha M. Stroup of West Brooklyn, and Frederick E. Biggart, also of this address, and six grandchildren; also an aged mother, two sisters, Mrs. Anna Risley of Shaws, and Mrs. Fannie Graft of Lee Center, three brothers, W. N. RUSSIANS BEGIN 200-MILE DRIVE

Take 13,000 Austrian Prisoners in Big Battle.

VIENNA ADMITS FOE GAINS

Constantinople Claims Russians Have Been Driven Back Twenty-five Miles in Caucasus—Slaughter About Fort Vaux Goes on—French Hold to Positions.

London, June 6.—The Russians have begun a new offensive movement on a large scale on the Austrian front. The Petrograd statement announces marked successes from the Pripiet marshes to the Roumanian frontier, with the capture of 13,000 prisoners. Vienna admits the violent bombardment of the Austrian positions, but makes no admission of captures by the enemy.

Vienna Admits Big Offensive.

The Vienna statement says: "The enemy's artillery in the morning entered into action on the whole Bessarabian and northeastern front. The artillery fire was especially violent on the Dniester and Lower Stripa, northwest of Tarnopol and in Volhynia, a sector twenty-five kilometers long near Olyka, under gunfire. "The Russians made an attack with gas on the Dniester, but did no damage to the Austro-Hungarian forces. Everywhere there are signs of impending infantry attacks."

French Repulse Vaux Drive.

London, June 6.—The desperate struggle of the Germans to capture Fort Vaux continues with daily renewed ferocity. The French still hold the fort, however, despite the use by the Germans of liquid fire and all their most violent resources.

The fight is raging in its fiercest intensity between Fort Vaux and the village of Damloup, where the Germans' repeated assaults were completely checked, according to the report of the Paris war office. The garrison of the fort also repulsed several storming attacks by the Crown Prince's army.

The statement follows: "On the Caucasus front in the center our troops drove back the enemy's left wing some twenty-five miles, notwithstanding unfavorable weather. All attempts of the enemy to cover his retreat or to regain his positions collapsed with heavy losses under our bayonet attacks. We captured fifty soldiers, two machine guns and other arms and engineering material."

Zie-rath said he had never voted for Colonel Roosevelt, but he hoped to have that pleasure, adding: "Your firm stand against the hyphen is not going to lose you votes."

KITCHENER OBJECT OF CRITICS' TIRADE

it was to be faced with confidence, and he, unsmilingly, almost like a dehumanized machine, set about making things hum. He had scarcely moved into Whitehall street when he made numerous changes in the personnel of the war office, which was said to be honeycombed with favoritism.

After dispatching a few hundred thousand regulars to France and Belgium to help check the onrushing Germans, the war secretary began recruiting and organizing his army of millions. The British Isles were covered with signs and posters urging young men to join the colors. Kitchenier went through the country supervising the drilling of the army and from time to time were reports indicating his failure to get the number of men he wanted, but within a year after the war opened Premier Asquith officially announced in parliament that about 3,000,000 men had enlisted in the United Kingdom alone, and almost another million in overseas dominions.

Was Criticized.

Kitchener, however, was the object of no little criticism. There was much grumbling because of a strict censorship he imposed on newspapers and his utter disregard for war correspondents. Notwithstanding this, the British newspapers gave him active support prior to May, 1915. During the winter months the war secretary had announced the "big drive" would begin about May 1st. The battle of Neuve Chapelle occurred in May, and England believed this was the beginning of the big drive. Soon afterward reports reached England that the drive had halted because of a shortage of munitions, especially high explosive shells. A section of the London Press declared that Kitchenier had made a serious mistake in providing large quantities of shrapnel and insufficient high explosives. Newspaper attacks went so far as to suggest his being displaced as war secretary, but the majority of the press defended him. It was agreed that the raising of a big army and supplying munitions at the same time was too great a task for one man. The discussion developed the formation of a coalition cabinet and the creation of the new portfolio minister of munitions, of which David Lloyd George took charge, while Kitchenier remained as war minister.

Had Won High Honors.

Without his crowning achievement as the great organizer of the British campaign in European war, Kitchenier had already won wide and lasting fame by his many campaigns in Egypt, South Africa and India. He was born June 24, 1850, in County Kerry, Ireland, a fact that gave rise to a general belief that he was of Irish blood, but his parents were of French and English descent. His father was a soldier, but of no very high rank. He had managed to climb to the lieutenant colonelcy of a dragoon regiment, when he retired.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Samuel J. Whetston, Republican candidate for Coroner of Lee County, Steward, Illinois. Subject to Republican Primaries.

to the estate in Ireland where Horatio Herbert Kitchenier, the to-be-distinguished son, was born. Young Kitchenier received his fundamental military education at Woolwich and there he displayed only ordinary brilliancy, with the exception of his liking for mathematics. On graduating, he received a commission in the Royal Engineers, but when not yet 21 years of age he attached himself to a French army in the Franco-Prussian war. He had been in the service but a short time when he contracted pneumonia during a balloon flight and had such a prolonged and serious illness that he had to give up further service for France. Kitchenier's experience in European warfare, prior to his direction of the great war of 1914 therefore, had been limited to only a few balloon flights in France.

Went to Palestine.

In 1874 when a British expedition was sent out to survey Western Palestine, Kitchenier was one of the eager volunteers accepted for this service. For months he traveled over the hills and valleys of this peaceable Bible land with his theodolite and surveying tape, and with this life in the open he grew to be a tall, gaunt subaltern with a hard face well burned. His contribution to the topographical knowledge of the Holy Land completed, young Kitchenier was sent to Cyprus, which Great Britain had just acquired, to organize a system of courts, a work in which he displayed administrative ability and tact. It was while there, in 1882 that he took his first step on the path which led him eventually to Khartum. Trouble was already brewing in the Sudan. Hearing that the Egyptian army was being organized by Sir Evelyn Wood, young Kitchenier saw his opportunity with unerring instinct and lost no time in offering his services. The military authorities, recognizing his insight into the native character, put him in the intelligence department, and from the very outset of his Egyptian career negotiations of the utmost importance were entrusted to him and carried out with invariable success. As an intelligence officer Kitchenier accompanied Sir Herbert Stewart's desert column on that heroic but disastrous enterprise known as the Gordon Relief expedition, the relief of General Gordon from Khartum where he had been entangled during the evacuation of the Sudan. Kitchenier deeply took to heart the lesson of this fiasco, with its failure of transport and intelligence departments, and avoided these troubles in the expedition which he himself led some years later. In the meantime Kitchenier was employed in innumerable fights and raids against the dervishes or Mahdists of Southern Egypt. In 1886 he became governor of the Red Sea territories and set in motion a series of raids on the notorious Osman Digna, the dervish leader, during which he received a bullet which broke his jaw.

The Kitchenier campaign that ended with the recapture of Khartum was considered by military experts as perfectly organized and faultlessly conducted. The Egyptian army that Kitchenier had worked up to such remarkable efficiency was, when he assumed charge of it, a band of unpaid, unfed and undisciplined fellahs. It was said to be an army "without stomach, heart or backbone," but Kitchenier worked over these helpless reeds of broken natives and made of them some of the finest of black battalions. The fight at Omdurman, Sept. 2, 1898, just across the Nile from Khartum, was the greatest battle of Kitchenier's time in Egypt. Osman Digna faced him with 50,000 Mahdists, and he had but 20,000 men. When the battle was over, 11,000 of the Mahdists had been killed outright, 16,000 wounded and 4,000 taken prisoners, while the English and Egyptian loss altogether was under 500 men.

Worshipped a Hero.

With the capture of Khartum, capital of Sudan, which meant the reestablishment of British possession of these upper reaches of the Nile, Kitchenier became the object of hero worship in England. His campaign had been, and is to this day, much criticized, however, because of its ruthlessness. It was charged Kitchenier trampled on his foes in almost barbarous manner. On his return to England, however, he was generous enough to ask his countrymen to found a college at Khartum where the sons of the dervish chiefs he had fought and overwhelmed might be educated in the knowledge of the West, a request that met with such response among the British people that the fund required was far over-subscribed. Kitchenier's face was that of a man who neither asked for sympathy nor wanted it. He had steady, blue-gray, passionless eyes, a heavy moustache covered a mouth that shut close and firm like a wolf trap. He believed with all his might in the gospel of work. He had illimitable self-confidence. For bungling and faint-heartedness he was incapable of feeling sympathy or showing mercy; an officer who failed him once got no second chance. He had a grim, laconic humor. "What is your taste in hairpins?" for instance, is said to have been the query with which he annihilated a dandified officer. He was indifferent to popularity, particularly among women and although feted all over the world in social circles, he never married. In 1910 he paid a brief visit to the United States during a trip around the world. At that time it came out in the New York papers that the great Kitchenier was a "woman hater." He took occasion to deny this and said the only reason he never married was because he believed a man could not be a good soldier and a good husband at the same time.
